

LAWYER'S ARREST FOR LAND FRAUDS

G. O. Nolon Held Here on Indictment for Conspiracy by the U. S. Circuit Court of Oregon.

G. O. Nolon, an attorney of Florence, was arrested there by Deputy United States Marshal F. W. Hill, in connection with the Oregon land frauds, and was brought to the city yesterday morning. Proceedings were begun by Assistant United States Attorney Walter B. Kibbey for his removal to Oregon. The removal proceedings will probably come up before Judge Kent today.

The apprehension of Nolon took place on instructions from the United States circuit court for the district of Oregon. In which an indictment had been found against Nolon and nine other persons, charged with conspiring among themselves and with seventy other persons to defraud the government out of land and fees in the Oregon City land grant.

At the time of the finding of the indictment Nolon was not discoverable and a bench warrant for him was issued today at each of the United States Marshals Charles J. Reed for the district of Oregon. The warrant was returned with the information that Nolon could not be found. It was subsequently learned that he had been at Tucson and the matter was put into the hands of the United States authorities of this territory. Nolon was located at Florence and he was taken into custody in the court room there by the deputy United States marshal. The warrant for his apprehension had been issued by Roscoe Dale, United States court commissioner for Pinal county. He was transferred to Phoenix for the hearing of removal proceedings by United States Court Commissioner D. C. Stevens, of Pinal county.

It is alleged in the indictment that Nolon and his nine associates, who are described throughout the document as the defendants, while the seventy-one others, whose names are given, are known as the applicants, induced the applicants, men, women, and children, to make application for timber land open to settlement in the Oregon City land grant.

The applicants took the usual oaths that they were not in collusion with other parties; that they wanted the land for themselves; that they had made no arrangement to dispose of it to other parties; whereas, in fact, as the indictment alleges, their expenses to the land office had been paid by the defendants, and they had been provided by the defendants with the necessary money to pay the preliminary fees.

This having been done, according to the indictment, the next step in the conspiracy was entered upon, according to a previous arrangement with the applicants. One of the defendants, Charles E. Hayes, began contest proceedings against the applicants for the purpose of holding up further payment to the government while the lands were in contest, it being understood that whenever a purchaser was found by the defendants for any tract of land the contest should be discontinued and the applicant against whom it should be directed should deed to the defendants the tract in dispute that it might be transferred to the purchaser. Nolon is alleged to have had charge of the contest feature of the conspiracy.

Nolon arrived in Florence the latter part of last year and about the beginning of the year began the practice of law there. He is a man of good appearance and middle age. He takes his arrest coolly and has nothing to say of the circumstances of the case and makes no prediction regarding its outcome.

WOMEN FIGHTERS

A Brace of Them Brought to Jail Yesterday.

Both wanted for having fought with women, C. Rios and Frank Pina were brought into town yesterday. Rios, from St. Johns, where he was arrested by Constable Redwine, and Pina from Kelyin, where he was taken into custody by Constable Proops. Both were taken before Judge Johnstone and will be given their hearings today.

Rios some two days ago engaged in a fight with two women in the vicinity of Third street and Jackson, in which he was badly beaten. After the fight he started towards the river, in which direction Constable Redwine took up the chase as soon as he was called into service. Rios, succeeded in evading him and later made his way down the river to St. Johns settlement, where he was heard from night before last. The officer started after him and had no difficulty in locating him and placing him under arrest.

Pina is a member of a family that has continually been at war within itself ever since the establishment of a justice precinct in this county. It is giving them the best of it to say that they have been in one of the two justices' courts on an average of three times a week. Either the mother wants the father arrested, or the father wants the mother, or both of them the boy, or the boy one of his parents nearly every other day. This time the boy whipped his mother and from her appearance he made a good job of it. After his unbecoming behavior he skipped for Kelyin, to which point Constable Proops followed him.

To save the county future expense in settling the domestic affairs of the Pina household, the two justices have agreed to refuse to issue warrants on the complaint of any of them unless the charge is murder, and they are even further contemplating the making of a reward to encourage the offering of the latter charge possible. It is possible that if left alone the whole tribe will annihilate itself, in which case the final expense to the county will be the burial charge.

ESCAPED CONVICT

James Smith was Truited a Little to Far.

Word was received here yesterday from Yuma announcing the escape of a convict from the penitentiary on the afternoon of November 1, and offering a reward of $50 for his apprehension. No details of the manner of his escape are at hand, but it is supposed that he was a trusty and that he was given some liberties for the reason that his time was rapidly nearing its end.

The name of the convict is James Smith, and a Phoenix man who is well acquainted in Yuma says he thinks Smith was a five-year man who was sent up a couple of years ago from either Graham or Cochise county. He is described as a man 24 years old, five feet nine and a half inches tall, and weighing about 150 pounds. He is of fair complexion, wears a No. 7 hat and a number shoe; has blue eyes, brown hair and good teeth. He also has a scar on his left temple and the scar of a gunshot wound on the right leg above the knee.

THE WOMAN'S CLUB

A Variety of Matters Before Tuesdays Meeting.

The meeting of the Woman's club Tuesday afternoon was one of great interest, the program being under the direction of the department of philanthropy, Mrs. Andrew Downing, chairman.

The afternoon was given over to short addresses by representatives of different organizations, lodges, churches, etc., who make charity a notable part of their work. The subject of "Charity," as understood by the Order of the Eastern Star and the Rebekah lodge, I. O. O. F., was discussed by Mrs. Mertymann. The charity work that has been carried on for the past year by the Harmony club, was outlined by Mrs. Dennis. The work of the Elks was presented by Mr. Elder, and the work of the Rathbone Sisters by Mrs. Altken.

Adjutant Westcott told of some of the vast amount of charitable work done by the Salvation army, and Mrs. Frank Alkire described the work of the Crittenton Home.

The plan and nature of the work of the Associated Charities was very beautifully presented by Miss Gilchrist.

The music for the afternoon was furnished by Mrs. Tharaldson, who sang a soprano solo, and Miss Mason, of the Arizona school of music, who rendered two very pleasing violin solos.

I will pay $200 reward for the arrest and conviction of the murderers of Frank Jones and George Moulwling. J. T. Jones, Phoenix, Ariz.
